1. Air pollution.

A black and white photograph showing three industrial smokestacks emitting large, billowing plumes of smoke into a bright, overcast sky. The smokestacks are dark silhouettes against the lighter clouds.

1. Air pollution.

1. Air pollution.

A photograph of an industrial plant at night. Large, intense orange and yellow flames are erupting from several pipes on the left side of the frame. The plant's structures are dark against the bright fire. In the background, more industrial buildings and tall chimneys are visible, emitting plumes of smoke into the sky.

1. Air pollution.

2. Water pollution.

A photograph of a large, dark grey concrete pipe lying horizontally across a grassy area. A powerful stream of water is flowing out from its open end, creating white foam at the base. The surrounding ground is covered in green grass and some small yellow flowers. The pipe appears to be a storm drain or a large irrigation outlet.

Over Population

Ways of Population Control

Over Population

- 1. People should understand the advantages of small family.

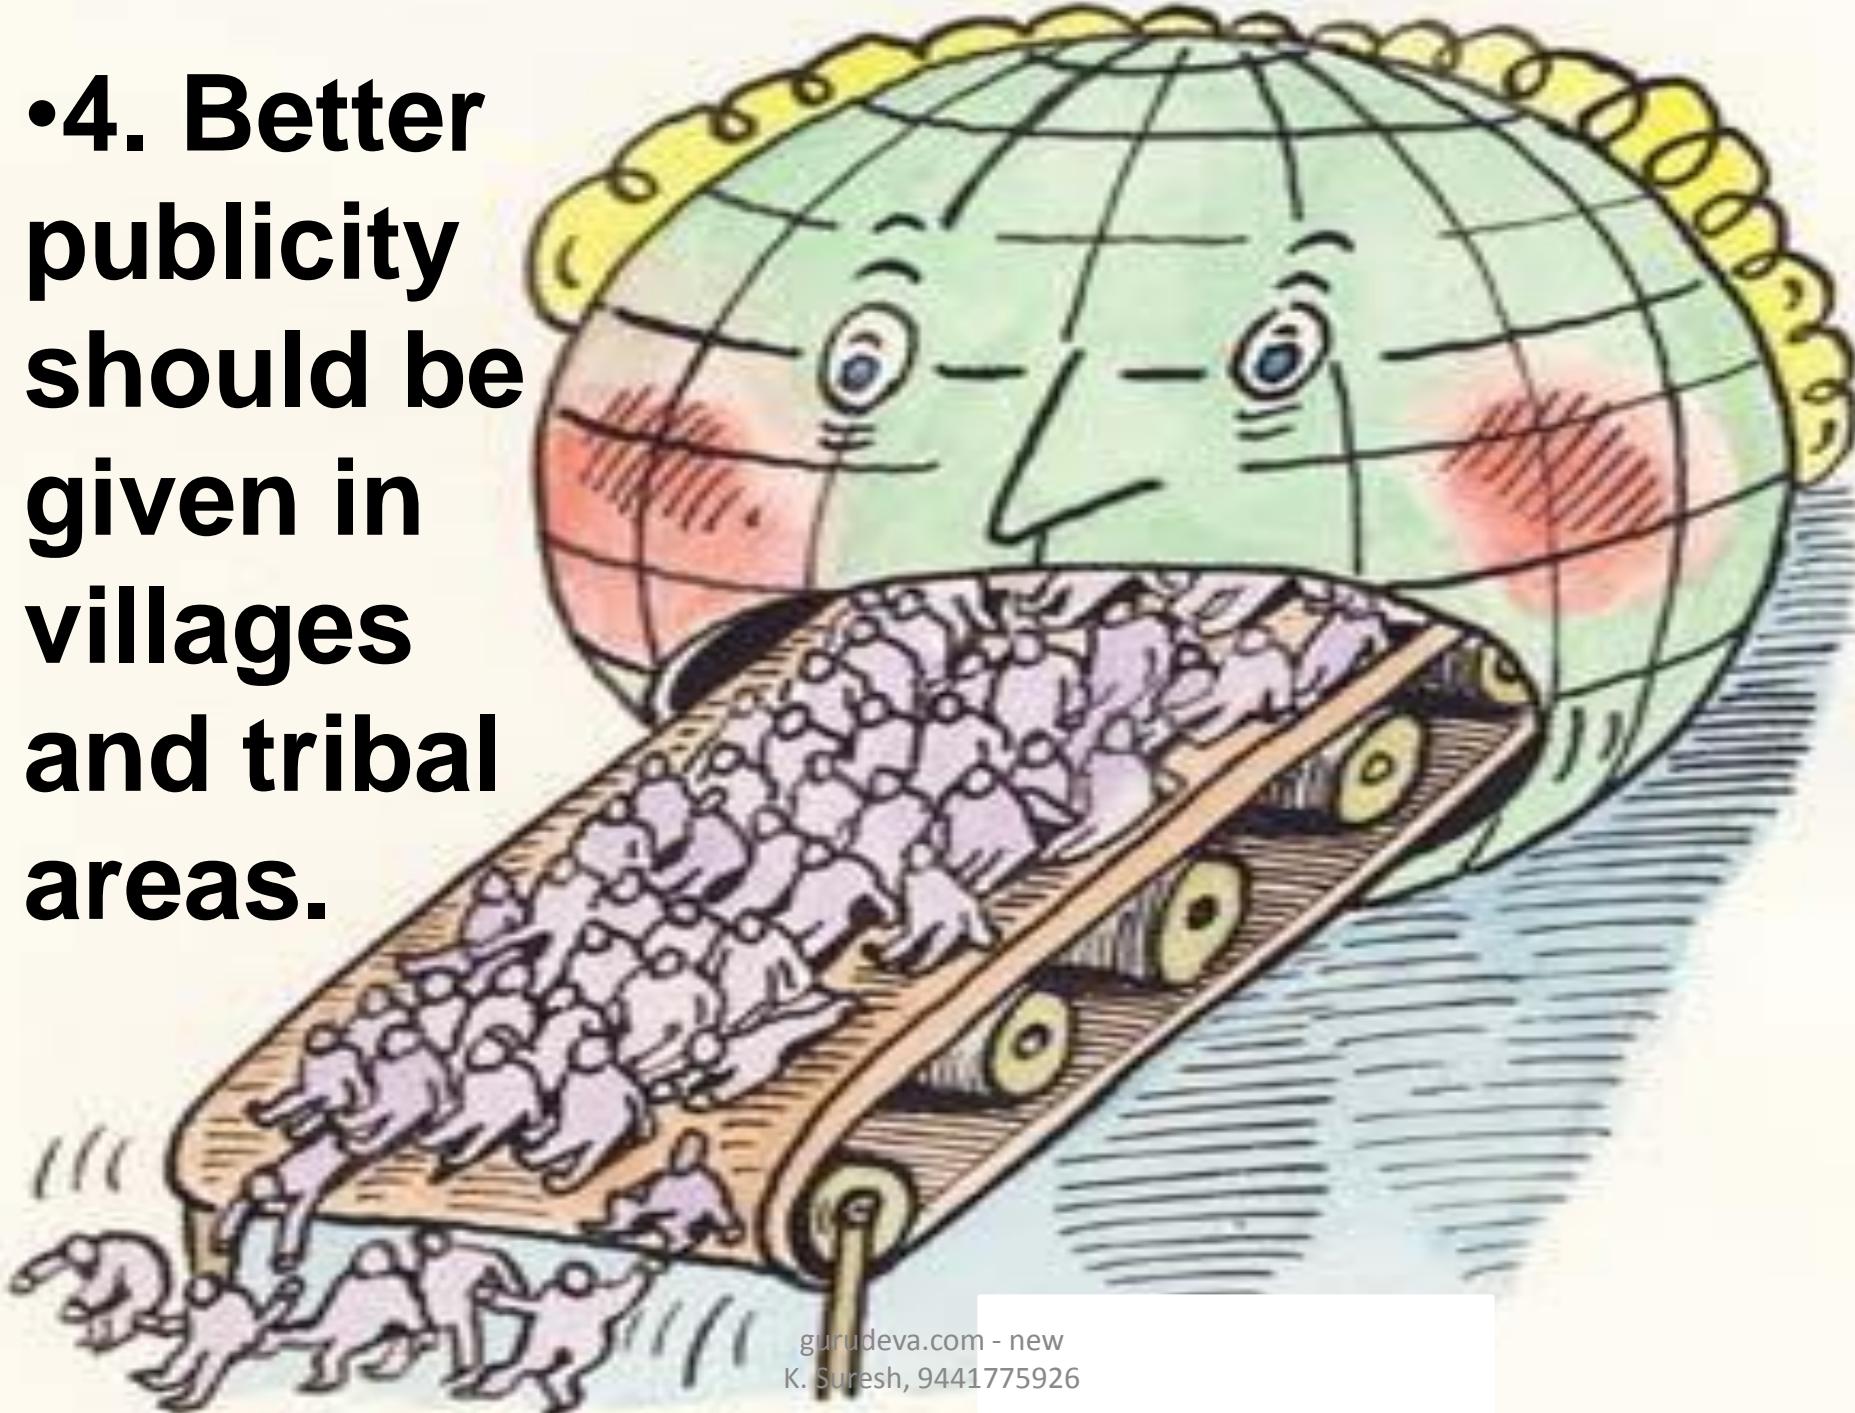

A photograph of a family of three running on a sandy beach. On the left, a man in a white t-shirt and light-colored shorts runs towards the camera, holding the hand of a young child in the center. The child is wearing a red t-shirt and patterned shorts, also running towards the camera. On the right, a woman in a light-colored tank top and shorts runs alongside them. They are all wearing sunglasses. The background shows the ocean and a clear blue sky.

•2. People should recognise the need of small families.

- 3. People should implement family planning schemes.

- 4. Better publicity should be given in villages and tribal areas.

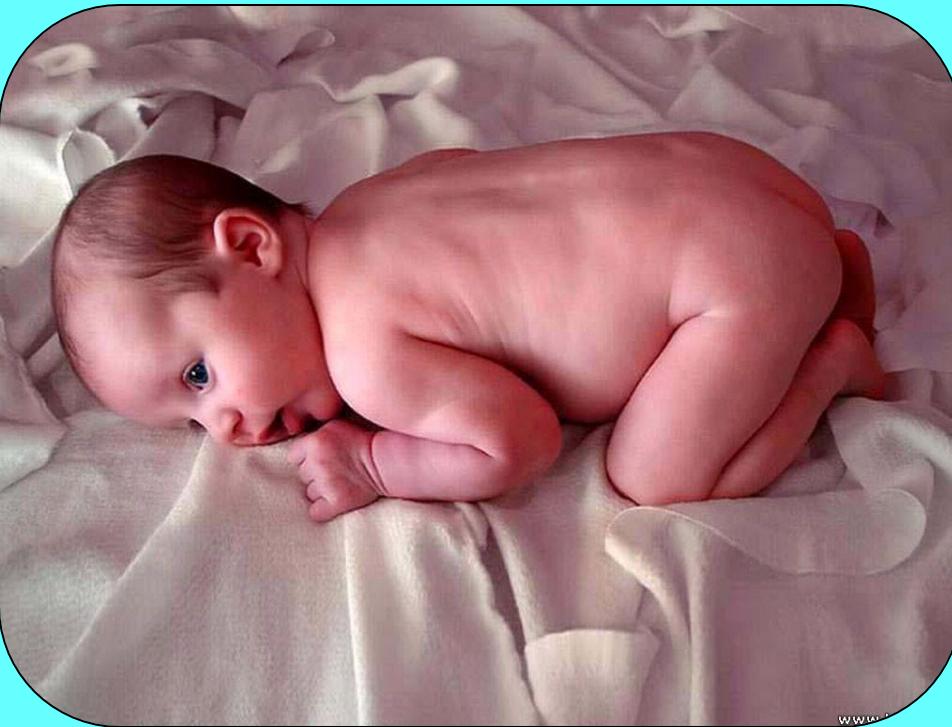

5. The practice of early marriages should be avoid.

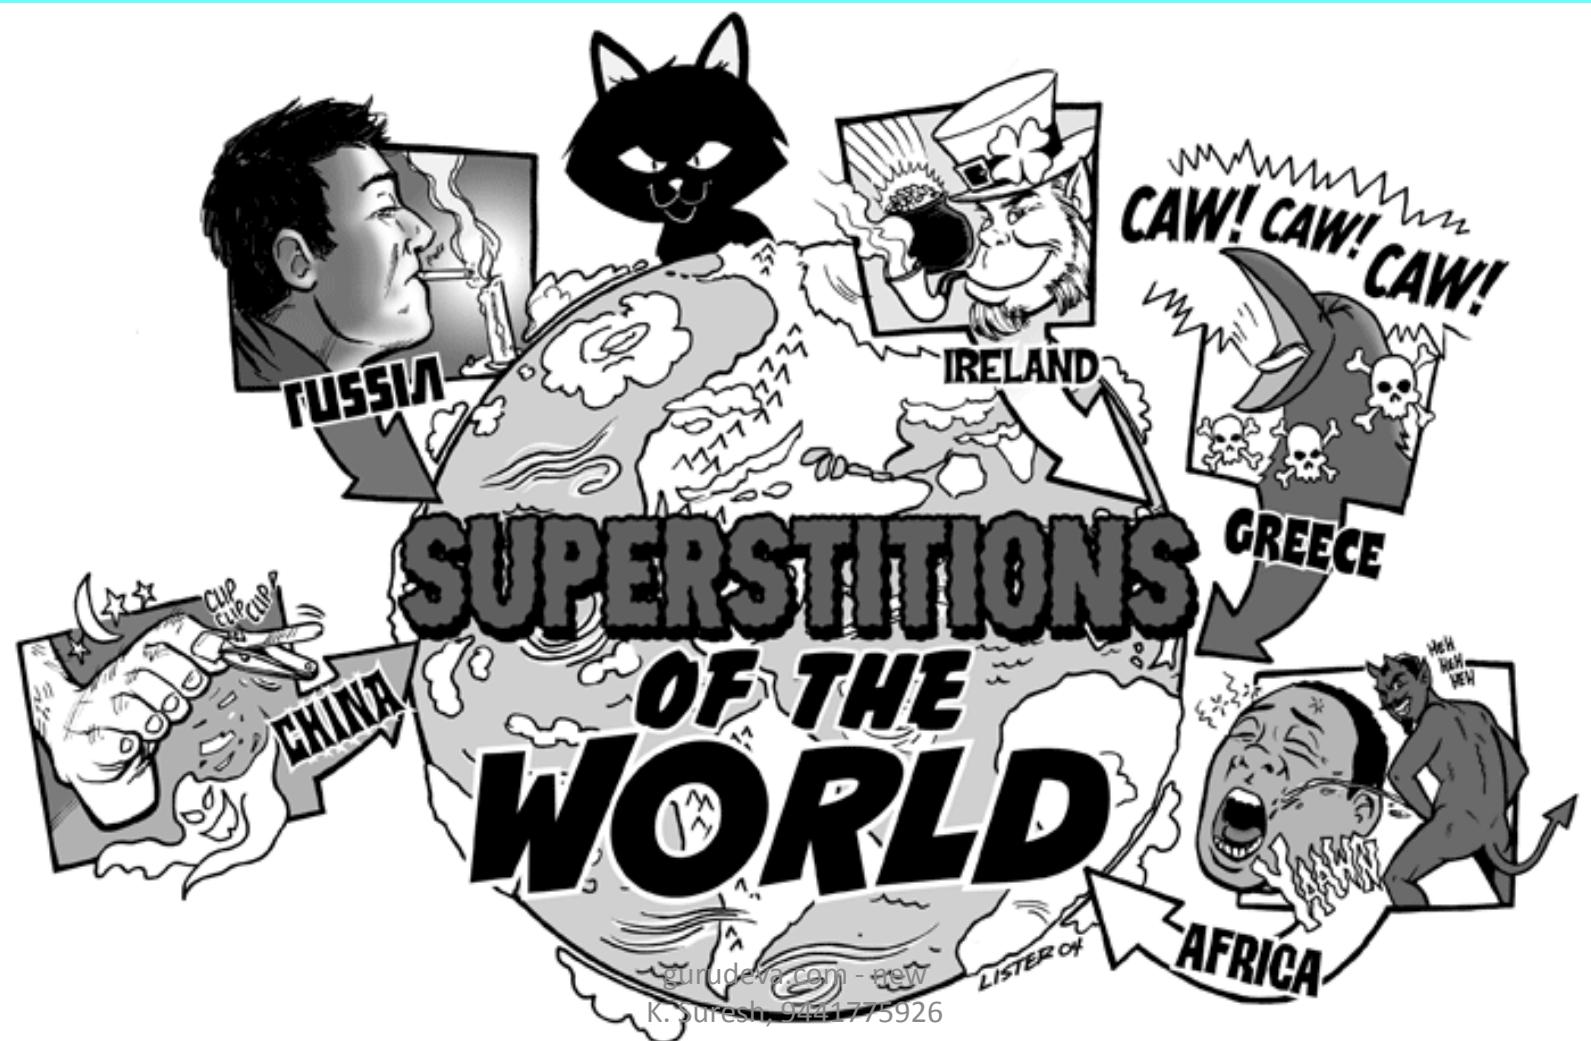

- 6. The laws passed by the government in this regard should be strictly enforced.

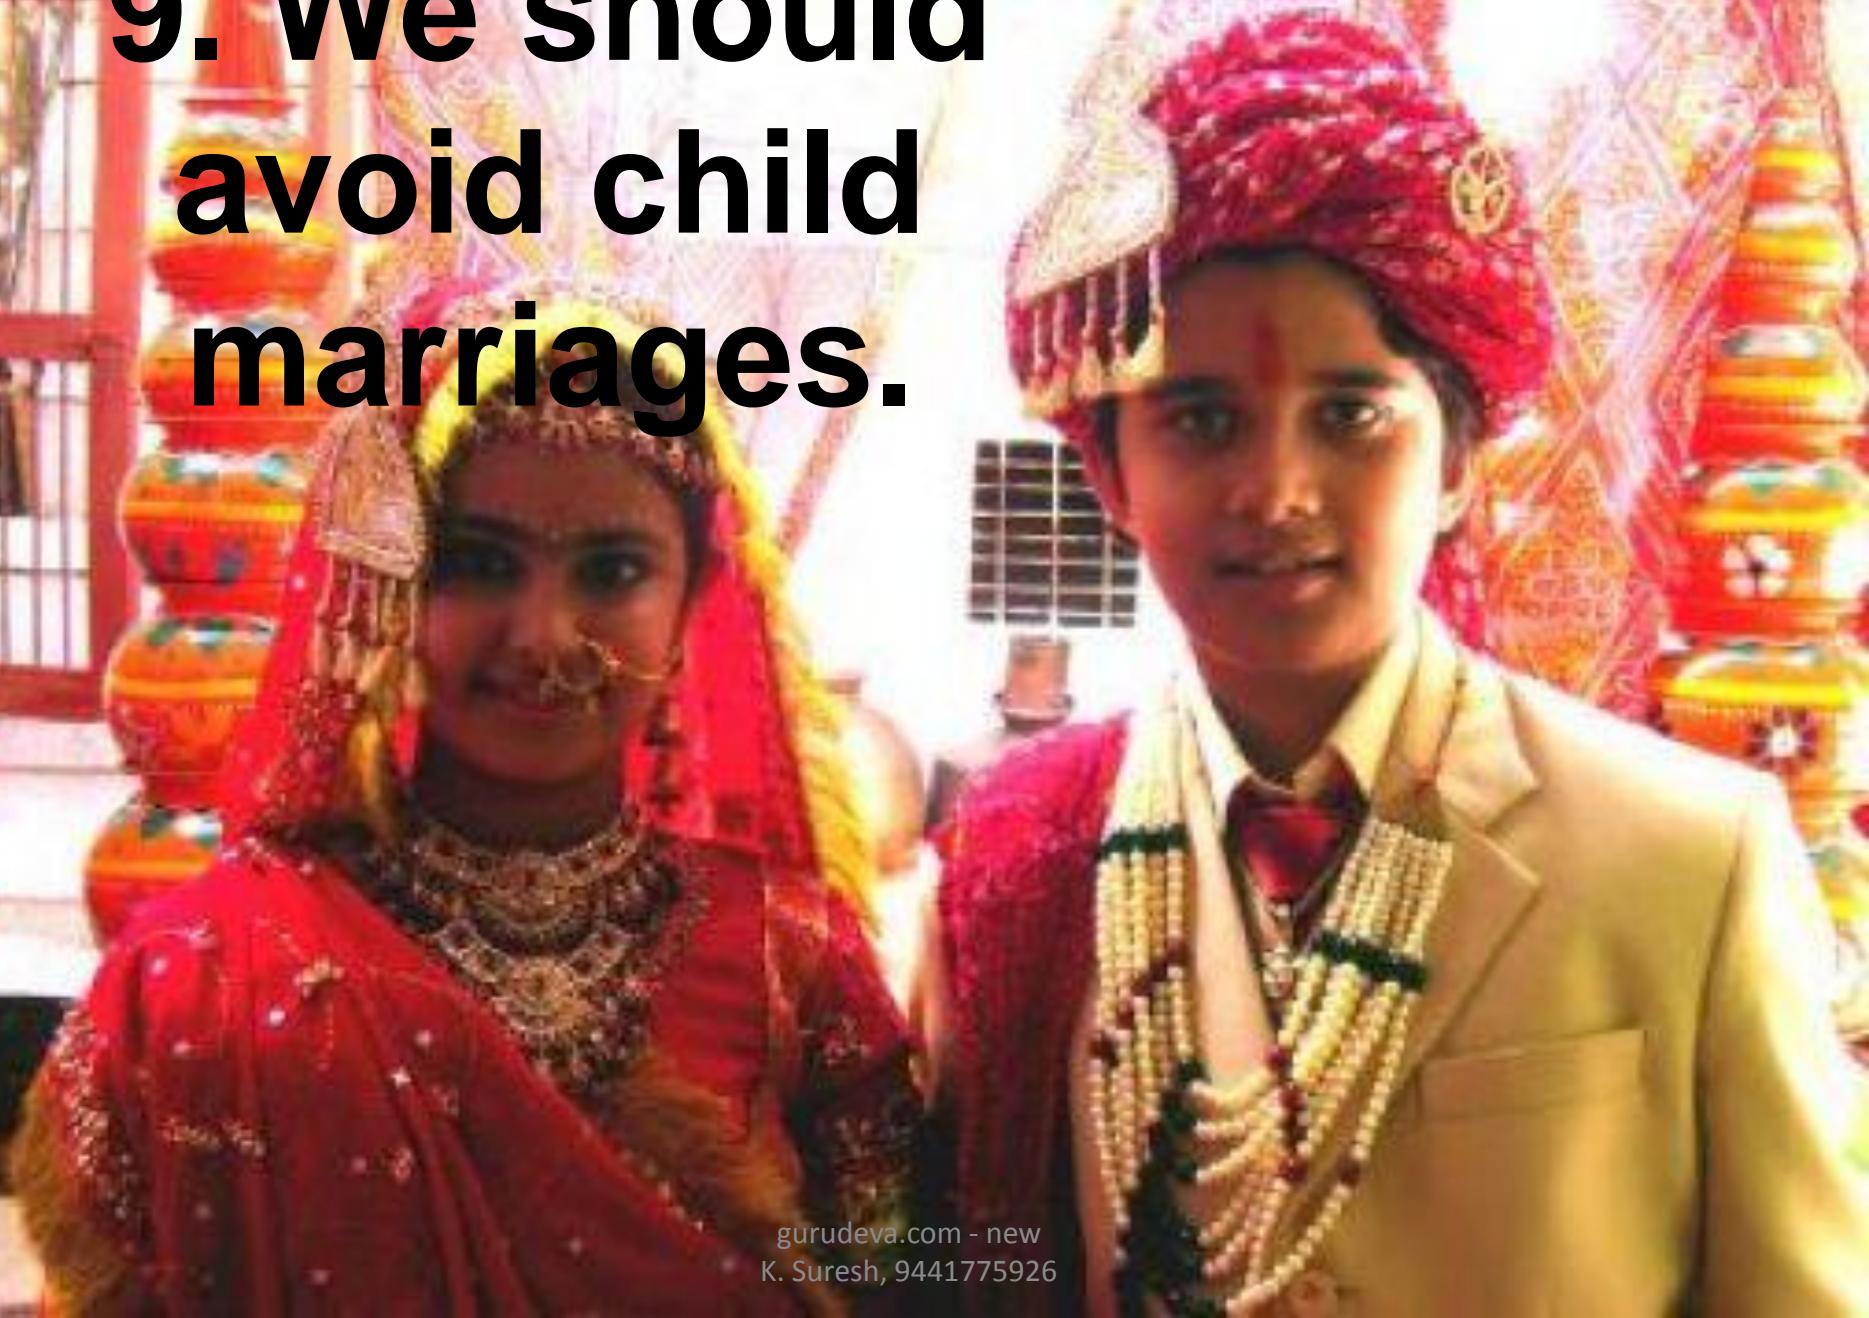

- 7. More funds should be allotted for family planning.

•8. Removing illiteracy and ignorance and superstition should be strengthened.

9. We should avoid child marriages.

10. We should cultivate the equality feeling at either male or female.
